NEW SCHOOL

● Council reveals plans for 'free school' to ease critical shortage of pupil places

A FREE school could be built close to Southend Airport in a bid to cope with a crisis over pupil places in the town.

Southend Council has revealed proposals to rush through plans for the new science, technology, engineering and manufacturing school on land adjacent to St Laurence Park, off Eastwoodbury Lane.

Free schools are controversial because trustees are able to employ teaching staff on lower salaries without formal qualifications.

They are unpopular with the Labour party, which has vowed to scrap them if it comes to power.

This is despite the fact that free schools have consistently earned 'good' Ofsted reports.

The new Southend free school would create 180 pupil places by September 2019.

Cllr James Courtenay, executive councillor for children and learning, said: "While we are working hard to meet expansion requirements for September 2018, we need to open a new free school in the borough by September 2019 to provide enough secondary school places for local children and meet our statutory obligations.

"The time frames are challenging and we are reliant on Government funding being forthcoming, but we are confident that all parties can make this happen for the good of our borough.

"The STEM school will expand parental choice and open up innovative and important links with the nearby airport and Airport Business Park, currently under construction."

Council officers investigated a number of possible council and privately owned sites across the borough before deciding on St Laurence Park

Cllr Courtenay added: "In a densely populated urban environment such as Southend, there is not one site that meets all of our requirements exactly, but we believe this is the best and most realistic site to achieve our goals.

Have you got a tool for this?

A DRIVER had a miracle escape last week after the doors, windscreen and roof of her Ford Focus blew off in a B&Q car park – when an air freshener exploded.

Sharon Druitt, 51, was taken to Southend Hospital after her car blew up in Fossetts Park on Wednesday.

Incredibly, Ms Druitt was treated only for burns to her arms was released soon after.

Essex Fire service said: "Firefighters were called to reports of a car fire and explosion in a car park in Southend. When they arrived they found the car was not on fire, but had suffered significant damage.

"The cause of the explosion has been confirmed as accidental. It happened after a build-up of gases from an air freshener was accidentally ignited by a cigarette."

New Sadlers Farm blow could spell road 'gridlock'

DRIVERS face 12 months of congestion after engineers discovered structural and drainage problems at Sadlers Farm.

Essex County Council warned of increased congestion after inspections revealed issues with work carried out by Balfour Beatty's in the run up to the London 2012 Olympics.

A spokesman for Essex County Council said: "Works will include the removal and replacement of the existing façade to enable vital drainage works to take place to structures on the A13 Link Road and the replacement of bearings on two of the bridges.

"This is to improve bridge movement and ensure we maximise their life."

Balfour Beatty would not comment on how much the repairs would cost, but confirmed that taxpayers would not be footing the bill.

The works will start in October.

Local councillors expressed concern about inevitable delays.

Canvey councillor Ray Howard said: "I'm very concerned our roads will be gridlocked. I'll be making inquiries with Essex County Council for reassurance that this won't happen."

Balfour Beatty said it would carry out works during the evenings and weekends to minimise disruption.

'I'm concerned our roads will be gridlocked and will be seeking reassurances from the council...'

Frank Lee-Sang, Balfour Beatty Project Director, said lane closures were inevitable, but added: "We're doing everything possible to plan and manage these works in order to keep traffic moving and minimise inconvenience for road-users and the local community.

"With Essex County Council, we will keep local residents, businesses and road users informed of progress and the essential information needed to make their journeys as smooth as possible throughout the length of the works."

Cllr Kevin Bentley,

Deputy Leader of Essex County Council, vowed that all remedial works were being completed at no additional cost to the taxpayer following completion of the Sadlers Farm scheme in 2012.

He added: "All work has been carefully planned to cause as little disruption to the driving public as possible.

"Once complete, it will ensure Sadlers Farm continues to deliver benefits to residents and commuters over the next century."

This latest disruption is the latest problem to blight the original £63m works programme.

Although designed to be completed in time for the London 2012 Olympics, the project over-ran its deadline, prompting contractors to issue a public apology.

The original works were carried out by Birse, the civil engineering arm Balfour bought more than 10 years ago. The firm continued to operate as an independent operating company under the Balfour Beatty logo.

For more information on the phasing of the works and the traffic management, visit balfourbeatty.com/sadlers-farm

Tower block fire safety campaign

RESIDENTS in Southend tower blocks can sign up to a safety campaign in the wake of the Grenfell disaster.

South Essex Homes has teamed up with fire and council bosses to reassure residents about fire safety. The BeFireSafe campaign involves a series of 21 colour-coded infographics, one for each working day of the month.

Julia Pack, of South Essex Homes, said: "The devastating and tragic fire that took place in June at Grenfell Tower in west London has naturally led to residents raising questions over the fire safety of the buildings they live in.

"We wanted to continue to promote these important messages and have therefore launched the #BeFireSafe social media campaign, on Facebook and Twitter and running throughout September."

A drug. The officers approached Uddin who took various items from his pockets and tried to swallow them.

They challenged him and after searching him found seven wraps of Class A drugs – four of crack cocaine and three of heroin.

Uddin was arrested and taken to Southend police station where he was found to be concealing a further 10 wraps of crack cocaine between his buttocks.

"Local residents will be consulted, and any plans will go through the necessary statutory processes."

The proposals will be discussed by the council's cabinet on Tuesday, September 19, with proposals to increase the size of other schools.

Shoeburyness High School has agreed to expand by one form of entry from September 2018, and will take a "bulge year" at the same time. Planning permission has been granted.

St Thomas More has agreed to expand by one form of entry from next September, and a planning bid has been submitted.

The Eastwood Academy has consulted on expansion, and a capital project is being costed for internal refurbishments.

Belfairs Academy is undertaking a feasibility study for potential expansion of up to two forms of entry.

College to honour graphic novelist and screenwriter

HONOUR: Author Warren Ellis

A FAMOUS graphic novelist will be honoured at a graduation ceremony for South Essex College students in October.

Warren Ellis, an award-winning writer of graphic novels, lives in Southend in what he describes as complete anonymity but works and gives talks all over the world.

He will receive an award for his contribution to the creative arts at the event at the Cliffs Pavilion in Southend. The movie RED, starring Bruce Willis and Morgan Freeman, is based on his graphic novel of the same name. Also Iron Man 3 is centred on his Marvel Comics graphic novel, Iron Man: Extremis.

He said: "It's kind of strange to be actually noticed here, let alone gifted with such a thing."

"I left education at 18, and I feel like I'm stealing something by accepting the honour."

Warren has had many novels published, the most recent is Normal. He wrote the Castlevania TV series which launched on Netflix in July.

He was inspired to start writing graphic novels because of the freedom they provide.

He added: "Graphic novels are the freest, purest form of visual narrative, and they can be anything from prose to theatre. They're just words and pictures, and you can do anything with words and pictures."

Warren will give a speech to graduating students on the night and offer advice on how to tackle this next stage in their lives.

He said: "It's a strange and not entirely comfortable time to be alive but it's also bursting with novelty and potential."

"This year, many brilliant and energetic minds join the community, and it's my hope that they'll take time every day to see clearly where they are, in all its wonder and its mistakes."

Universities in the world's top 350

ESSEX'S universities have both been rated in the world's top 350.

The placement in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings lists Anglia Ruskin and University of Essex among the elite academic institutions.

The rankings are topped by Oxford, with University of Cambridge, California Institute of Technology, Stanford University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology completing the top five.

Essex was ranked in the 251-300 bracket of the World University Rankings and 19th for the international outlook indicator.

Anglia Ruskin was in the 301-350 World category for the second year running, and is joint 39th out of all UK universities.

Professor Iain Martin, Vice Chancellor of Anglia Ruskin University, said: "Simply being included in this list of the top 1,000 universities in the world is very pleasing but to yet again feature in the top 350 is an outstanding achievement."

Professor Jules Pretty, Deputy Vice Chancellor of University of Essex, said: "We strive for excellence in education and research and as a truly international university, with students and academic staff from over 140 countries, it is wonderful to receive this recognition for our global reputation."

ALERT: Cherry Orchard Jubilee Country Park

Warning over algae in ponds at country park

DOG walkers have been warned to avoid Cherry Orchard Jubilee Country Park because of a deadly algae.

The Environment Agency has confirmed the presence of blue-green algae at the park which is in the rolling countryside of the Roach Valley.

Rochford Council urged users of the park to stay clear of the ponds and to keep their dogs on leads when they are anywhere near them.

A council spokesman said: "The algae can produce toxins which can harm, or even kill animals and cause skin-rashes, eye irritation, vomiting, diarrhoea, fever and muscle and joint pain in people."

The council has put up warning signs at the park and will post updates on its social media sites. To report algal blooms call the Environment Agency on its 24-hour hotline on 0800 80 70 60.

Police provide help in the wake of Irma SEVEN Essex Police officers have travelled to the Caribbean to help tackle the aftermath of Hurricane Irma.

They are among 53 from 14 UK forces who will provide support in the wake of the hurricane, thought to be the worst in history.

The aid has been organised by the Ministry of Defence.

A force spokesman said: "Their role will be to support the local force to maintain law, order and policing services."

"They may also be helping to locate missing people, liaising with UK authorities and assisting with family liaison."

Assistant Chief Constable

Pippa Mills said she was "really proud" of the officers, commenting: "They didn't hesitate to volunteer, despite the impact being away will have on their families. At least two of the officers will be missing their children's birthdays, as well as other family events."

"I think this attitude and dedication to putting other people first, especially those in real need, exemplifies what is great about our officers."

The team will be led by Supt Andy Mariner and will be in the Caribbean for two weeks.

Their exact destination has not been released.

Supt Mariner said: "All of us have seen the footage on the news of the hurricane and the utter devastation it's left behind, and wanted to help."

"When the opportunity came to help out, it was something we felt we had to do."

"We're lucky enough to be in a position where we can go and hopefully make a bit of a difference. Policing is about helping people, often when they're most in need and at their most vulnerable, and this situation is no different."

"I think we're all nervously anticipating what it's going to look like when we get there, but optimistic about what we can do to help."

Thank you Scott

"I am most grateful to Scott for making me the most comfortable denture I have ever had I don't even have to use a fixodent now. I came over from France and he fitted me in during my visit here whilst seeing my family." - John James

Excellent service

"I visited Scott as I had broken my dentures. He repaired them there and then at a very reasonable price. I took the opportunity to discuss my options with him as my dentures had never been comfortable. After advice with no pressure from Scott I decided to have new dentures. Best decision ever. I now have a great comfortable set. I would highly recommend Scott to anyone. A very professional service throughout."

Cyclists need to be aware of pedestrians

I HAVE lived in Hadleigh man and boy, and used to cycle around the town - mainly short casual journeys to the shops etc.

I gave up cycling because the traffic was getting heavier and I felt intimidated and in danger on the road. I became a pedestrian for these short journeys.

Hadleigh is the home of the Olympic mountain bike track and since it opened to the public we are getting lots of mountain bike riders in groups visiting the area.

These off-road bikes seem to be unable to go on the road and stick mainly to the pavements especially on the main roads and around Victoria House roundabout.

As a pedestrian I am expected to keep out of their way and have felt intimidated by cyclists on narrow pavements three times in recent weeks, prompting me to write this letter.

This brings up the subject of cycling on the pavement.

We all know this is against the law but a law that isn't enforced, isn't a law and the police have more important things to worry about.

There are many towns where provisions are made for cyclists and there are shared spaces where pedestrians have priority. I would like cyclists who use the pavement to behave responsibly and realise that pedestrians have priority.

Also that they have a duty of care especially in restricted areas such as bus stops and pedestrian crossings. In addition, I think the local council should make better provision for cyclists by widening pathways, where possible and by creating cycle ways. Hadleigh is not a cycle-friendly town.

Ironically, in the early 1960s when I was on my paper round in Hadleigh town, I had my collar felt by the local bobby for riding on the pavement at 7.30 in the morning when no one else was around. Ho hum!

Variety of letters can fuel debate

I GET great pleasure from reading letters written by individuals such as Alan Jasper and Paul Martin and others because, like my letters, they may not always be correct in every detail. Mr Martin needs to realise that letters written to the Yellow Advertiser reflect the opinion of the writer and therefore are important.

Mr Martin makes an important contribution by reading letters written by others and after some research bases his letters on highlighting the errors within them. Mr Martin, I have to say that anyone can do this, but I would love to hear something a little more imaginative and constructive from you please.

Mr Jasper on the other hand provides an educated and humorous view on the subject he writes about and I enjoy reading his letters.

Every letter written provides an opinion from an individual and is therefore important to read in order to develop thoughts that are not one-track.

To consider that everyone who does not agree with you is wrong, is a major weakness but to then provide criticism of that person rather than the person's opinion shows a lack of respect for others.

My views on Brexit are clear, get out no matter what the deal is. My views on the starvation of innocent babies are clear. Don't have them if they are to be born into starvation.

If you don't like my opinions Mr Martin, please don't waste your time attacking me, see if you can work out a alternative and let us know what it is.

I look forward to Mr Jasper's next letter and letters written by others which I always find interesting.

EU fan club getting hot under collar

THE EU fan club are a fiery bunch! First I'm guilty of ranting and now poor K. Knight is branded as clueless by Mr Haran simply for saying no one can tell the future. Did 17million people vote on the basis of what was on the side of the bus?

Reasons for voting out are many and varied as they probably were for voting in but that's what voting is about - one man or woman with a ballot paper in secret, their choice, that's democracy.

It isn't voting again and again until you get the result you want, Mr Haran.

To compare our referendum with the election of Hitler or Mussolini is about on a par with Brexit being likely to cause a third world war.

I must have missed the stormtroopers in the street reminding people who to vote for. We have paid billions into that club and they still want more. Please can one of the EU fan club tell us something the EU has done for this country that wasn't paid for by our own money?

Alan Jasper
Hadleigh

Democracy claims mask bid to remain

WOULD it be too much to ask John Haran for once, just once, to answer a question instead of using his usual tactics of making misleading or imaginary comments?

He claims that Brexit is looking nothing like what we were promised (Letters, Sept 8). Well, here is the question. What exactly were we promised and by whom?

David Cameron and George Osborne stated that leaving the EU means leaving both the Free Trade Zone and the Customs Union and that leaving the EU meant exactly that.

The government brochure distributed nationwide declared that the government would uphold the will of the people. These are facts, John, so what has changed that we should demand another vote on the subject?

I do not pretend not to have noticed (as John puts it) what is going on with Brexit. To me, nothing has changed much, apart from the fact the EU negotiators are making unrealistic demands that are probably part of plans to force the UK into a no-deal, hard Brexit position, with the hope that by using bully-boy tactics they will scaremonger the UK electorate into wanting a second referendum.

Mr Haran mentions, as he puts it, the bald Bs plastered on a big red bus et al, yet conveniently omits the bald Bs put forward by Mr Osborne, Mark Carney and the so-called

"experts" who were acting not in the interests of the country. It would seem John hides his desire to remain in the EU behind a smokescreen of claims for democracy.

Last week we saw EU democracy in action with the judgement issued by the kangaroo court known as the European Court of Justice regarding immigration into Hungary and Slovakia.

If that is EU democracy, you can keep it.

Jay serves up a treat

By Liz Wade

features@yellowad.co.uk

AWARD-winning restaurant critic, MasterChef judge and chairman of BBC Radio 4's Kitchen Cabinet, Jay Rayner, is bringing his hilarious new comedy show The Ten (Food) Commandments to the Queen's Theatre in Hornchurch on Sunday, September 24.

Audiences will join the nation's culinary Moses as he comes armed with a new set of hand-tooled commandments for today's food-obsessed age.

Using comedy, he deals once and for all with questions like whether it is ever okay to covet thy neighbour's oxen (it is), eating with your hands (very important indeed) and if you should cut off the fat (no).

The Ten (Food) Commandments combines reportage and anecdotes with recipes. In this audio-visual romp Jay attempts to lead us to the edible Promised Land and provides hilarious guidance on the best way to eat now.

The show includes an aftershow Q&A and book signing.

Jay is an award-winning writer and broadcaster, best known for his work as a MasterChef judge and restaurant critic for the Observer.

He is a former Critic of the Year and Restaurant Critic of the Year, and in the 2014 British Press Awards he was shortlisted for both Critic of the Year and Specialist Journalist of the Year.

In a recent survey by UK Press Gazette Jay was voted the most influential food and drink journalist in Britain.

Further entertainment at Queen's Theatre over the coming weeks includes the electric ukulele band, D'Ukes on September 24.

Evening ticket holders will also be invited to a ukulele workshop for free at 5.30pm when you can learn the basics of ukulele playing in the bar area of the theatre. Non-concert ticket holders can also join them for £5.

Million Dollar Quartet, starring Peter Duncan will be at the Billet Lane theatre from September 25-30.

The worldwide smash-hit musical is inspired by a 1956 jam session by Elvis Presley, Johnny Cash, Jerry Lee Lewis and Carl Perkins at Sun Records in Memphis.

The Dawn Chorus, a joyous community choir, will be providing entertainment on September 29.

The choir, led by musical director Paul Rhodes, sings everything from musical favourites and toe-tapping dance tunes, to swing and popular hits, and ticket prices include a donation to St Francis Hospice.

As part of Black History Month celebrations, Frank Holder and his band, as well as The Eliza Fitzgerald Songbook Show, will appear at the theatre in October.

Autumn shows

Frank is one of the very few musicians still alive to have played on the London jazz scene in the 1940s. His vocals and conga rhythms are as fresh today as when he played with the bands of Leslie "Jiver" Hutchinson, John Dankworth and Ronnie Scott, and you can see him and his band at the theatre on October 13.

The Ella Fitzgerald Songbook Show, on October 15, will be brought to the theatre by vocalists, Sue and Jeff Short, and their musicians.

They will provide a centenary celebration of Fitzgerald in a performance that will feature songs from the great American Songbook albums she recorded in the '50s and '60s, and includes music by Cole Porter, George Gershwin, Irving Berlin, Johnny Mercer and many more.

A side-splitting stage adaption of the much-loved Ealing comedy – The Lady Killers – will be at the theatre from October 17 to 21.

When Mrs Wilberforce puts a sign in her newsagent's window advertising "A Room to Let", she is delighted when the mysterious Professor Marcus proclaims it perfect for rehearsing his string quintet.

She soon discovers that she is not making tea for musicians, but harbouring a gang of criminals and connen planning the great King's Cross Train Robbery.

Graham Linehan, who penned Father Ted and The IT Crowd, has adapted this much-loved film for the stage, mixing comedy and criminal capers to hilarious effect.

■ To see The Ten (Food) Commandments with Jay Rayner at Queen's Theatre, Hornchurch, on Sunday, September 24, at 2.30pm, or any of its other shows over the coming weeks, visit queens-theatre.co.uk or call the box office on 01708 443333.

Mamma Mia!

mother! (18, 121 mins)

THE lower-case lettering and exclamation point of Darren Aronofsky's twisted psychological thriller reflect the writer-director's nightmarish vision: intriguing, pretentious, confusing and ultimately pointless.

Fresh from rave reviews and deafening boos at the Venice Film Festival, mother! leaves more questions than it answers.

The escalating mayhem could be many things: a densely layered biblical allegory replete with plagues, a Messiah and cannibalistic communion; a coruscating study of the egotistical male psyche; a hallucinogenic portrait of the impact of the creative process; a home invasion thriller; a homage to author Ira Levin's Rosemary's Baby and A Kiss Before Dying.

mother! could be many things: coherent is not one of them.

If there is method in the madness, it is frustratingly elusive, concealed behind layer upon layer of directorial brio, atmospheric sound and an emotionally wrought lead performance from Jennifer Lawrence.

She shines even when the picture plunges into the gloom.

A script punctuated by unsettling flashbacks strips characters of their Christian names, stoking the air of mystery.

A young woman (Lawrence) set-ties into the country home she shares with her husband (Javier Bardem), an acclaimed poet struck down with writer's block.

Their house has been lovingly rebuilt after a devastating fire and the young wife has taken on the responsibility of interior designing the property by hand.

The lovebirds are situated far from their closest neighbours and seem content to languish in the rut of day-to-day existence.

One night, a stranger (Ed Harris) – an orthopaedic surgeon – arrives, mistakenly believing the couple's home to be a guesthouse.

The husband offers the man lodgings. "He's a doctor," smiles the husband. "He's a stranger," replies his concerned young spouse.

The next day, the visitor's waspish wife (Michelle Pfeiffer) materialises and violence percolates beneath the surface, exacerbated by the arrival of the surgeon's feuding sons (Domhnall and Brian Gleeson).

The young woman grows increasingly unnerved by the presence of outsiders in her carefully ordered world and she slowly relinquishes her grasp on reality.

mother! is an artfully constructed, elliptical conundrum that invites us to become gob-smacked voyeurs as the filmmaker pleasures himself for two hours.

Our satisfaction is considerably harder to come by. The fragmented narrative slips and slides between moods and cultural references without any obvious design, held together by Lawrence, who is on screen for almost the entire duration.

It's a beautiful yet bamboozling nightmare.

WHICH STYLE OF ESTATE AGENTS IS BEST FOR YOU?

There are many type of estate agency and picking the right one to sell your property can be daunting.

Different agencies provide a variety of services, yet some people are unaware of the direct benefit that apparently unrelated services can offer. Whilst you may be thinking of selling rather than letting your property, have you considered the benefit of instructing an agent who also provides letting services – as we do – as it could be the make or break of your sale, for many reasons:

Firstly, as we handle both sales and lettings, we have long-term buy-to-let property investors permanently on our books who buy through us regularly. They know us, they make quick decisions and reliable offers. They prefer to buy through an agency that also does lettings because it is easier for them to then let out their new investment. Indeed, we are often able to find, reference and process a tenant who can move in quickly – even on the day of completion in some instances, thereby helping to maximising the investor's return on investment!

Secondly, many of our tenants, wishing to get their foot on the property ladder, subsequently go on to buy a property. As we build good relationships with our tenants we are in prime position to be able to help them buy one of our own clients' properties – smoothing to move from rented to purchased accommodation.

JEFFREY PENNECK
MANAGING DIRECTOR - ABODE UK

Thirdly, there are times when a vendor decides not to sell, but to rent, or even pursue both options simultaneously, in which case we are of course well positioned to handle both. Likewise, it is sometimes the case that a prospective tenant decides to buy instead of renting, again adding to our stock of pre-qualified buyers.

So, when the time comes to sell, pick an estate agent who also offers Sales & Letting services. It could greatly improve your chances of a successful sale on the best possible terms!

The new CR-V, is Honda's first hybrid SUV

Honda set to show new hybrid CR-V

By Chris Russon

HONDA is to display a prototype of its new CR-V at the Frankfurt Motor Show, complete with a hybrid powertrain.

It will be Honda's first hybrid SUV to go on sale in Europe and is due to arrive next year as CR-V production moves from Swindon in the UK to Canada.

Likely to replace diesel versions, the hybrid is fitted with a 2.0-litre i-VTEC petrol engine and an electric motor mated to a single geared transmission.

With variable drive modes available it can run as a zero emission EV for short distances or use the combined output of the two engines for lower fuel consumption.

The new CR-V, which is slightly wider, longer and taller than the current model, has a stronger all-round appearance.

It is due to be released next year and the new line-up will also feature a 1.5-litre turbo petrol engine available either as a six-speed manual or a CVT.

The current CR-V has been on sale in the UK since 2012 and is one of the most popular SUVs on the market.

The new model will have its European premiere at the Frankfurt show which opened on Tuesday, September 12.

BLUES PAY FOR SLOPPY DEFENDING

Football

Charlton Athletic 2 Southend United 1 Sky Bet League One

By Rowland Lyons at The Valley
HIGH-FLYING Charlton punished sloppy Southend defending, last Saturday, sinking them with two second-half strikes inside a mad three-minute spell.

A Josh Magennis opener was quickly followed by Ricky Holmes's winner. John White's late goal proved academic.

The visitors, however, made a bright start, with Nile Ranger, making his first start of the season, proving a handful for a shaky Addicks defence.

But Southend's punchless forward line failed to capitalise during their best spell, midway through the opening period.

On 22 minutes Michael Kightly – who was later limping with a suspected hamstring injury – skipped through the home defence, forcing keeper Ben Amos to save with his left boot. However, Ranger, following up, missed the target from eight yards.

Apart from Simon Cox seeing his 34th minute effort blocked, the Addicks went on to dominate, with Mark Oxley working overtime between the sticks, as it seemed just a matter of time that they would score.

Oxley did well to foil a Magennis header shortly before the break, with Jon Solly's long-range effort only just flying wide.

Having ended the opening 45 minutes on the back foot, the Shrimpers appeared to be content to soak up sustained Charlton pressure after the turnaround.

With Magennis and Tariq Fosu spurning presentable opportunities, the Southend goal seemed to be enjoying a charmed life.

But, there was no such luck on 65 minutes when the Blues lost their shape, down the left, with Solly allowed to make a deep run.

His pin-point cross found Magennis who nodded powerfully past a helpless Oxley.

Visibly reeling from the Addicks' opener, only three minutes later, rookie Elvis Bwomono was left exposed down the right flank. The tricky Holmes took full advantage, cutting in on his favoured right foot and curled a delightful 20-yard effort past a flat-footed Oxley.

Fancying a rout, Charlton kept their foot on the peddle, with the Blues continually pegged back.

But with 15 minutes left to try and salvage something from a seemingly lost cause, boss Phil Brown made a double substitution.

Fresh from international duty, the always industrious Jason Demetriou entered the fray, along with Theo Robinson.

The switch paid instant dividends, with Demetriou posing problems in the visitors' penalty area, as the Blues got a much-needed foothold. White gambled with a near-post run and made good contact with earlier sub Stephen McLaughlin's flag-kick, to glide home past Amos, giving the 1,500 travelling support hope.

With their tails clearly up, the Shrimpers swarmed the home goal and Ryan Leonard should have levelled with eight minutes left, but disappointingly shot wide, when a bit of composure might have seen Southend grab a much-needed point.

Robinson then saw his late effort blocked and despite five minutes' stoppage time, the Blues returned home empty-handed, leaving a frustrated Brown admitting: "Fine lines and margins are going against us at the moment. We need to turn things around quickly."

Pulling no punches, Brown blasted: "We've got four strikers, who aren't firing at the moment, three wingers who aren't producing and at the back we're not keeping clean sheets. I knew Charlton had chances before their goals, but they've exposed us and we've lost our shape. Neither is it good enough getting to sixty-five minutes without conceding."

"We needed to batten down the hatches at one-nil down. I know Charlton are playing with confidence at the moment, but it's about mentality, as they've got their second goal with their man cutting in on his right foot."

"The positive from today is John White getting his second goal in as many games, but we're not quite there yet. Last season it took us until mid-October – 12 games – to get going. It's not good enough and we've got to get the likes of

SCORER: John White

Anthony Wordsworth, Rob Kiernan and Micheal Turner off the treatment table."

Goalscorer White added: "We're extremely disappointed, as we started strongly and were well in the game. Obviously, up until half-time, we had chances to go ahead. Maybe, if we had taken one of these, Charlton would have had to come at us and maybe with us soaking up some pressure."

He admitted: "We need that clean-sheet mentality, week in, week out. If we don't score, then we must know we aren't going to concede. But, we haven't got that at the moment."

White concluded: "I don't think it [not winning since the first day of the season] is a cloud hanging over our heads. We just take each game as it comes. We know things will pick up. But, we need to pick up results fast. It mustn't get worse and worse, as things will start to snowball."

Charlton Athletic: Ben Amos, Chris Solly (capt), Patrick Bauer, Jason Pearce, Jay Da Silva, Tariq Fosu (Ezri Konza 89), Ricky Holmes (Joe Dodo 86), Ahmed Kashi, Jake Forster-Caskey, Josh Magennis, Billy Clarke. Subs: Dillon Phillips, Johnnie Jackson, Joe Arbo, Naby Sarr, Reece Hackett-Fairchild.

THE BIG MATCH

WEST BROM v HAMMERS

Premier League
The Hawthorns
Saturday, September 16 (3pm)

Non-league round-up

Billericay stay top of the tree

By Brian Jeeves

BILLERICAY Town remain top of the Bostik Premier Division after a first half goal from Jake Robinson was enough to sink Leatherhead at the AGP Arena.

Town, roared on by a bumper crowd of 1,651, were forced to play out more than half the match with ten men following the dismissal of skipper, and former West Ham man, Paul Konchesky.

There was a defeat for Thurrock who went down 3-1 at Leiston, despite Reece Morgan finding the net for the Ship Lane outfit.

Maldon & Tiptree were among the goals in Bostik North. Junior Ogedi-Uzokwe (2), Ryan Clampin and Johnville Renee helped the Jammers to a 4-1 win over Norwich United.

Late goals from Frankie Merrifield and Charlie Cole earned Canvey Island maximum points at Waltham Abbey after Christian Assombalonga had given the hosts the lead.

Barking saw off Grays Athletic 3-1 at Mayesbrook Park, thanks to goals from Jay Knight, Theo Ola and Dan Gilchrist, while Theo Fairweather-Johnson and Leon McKenzie helped AFC Hornchurch to a 2-1 win at Potters Bar Town. Heybridge Swifts won at Aveley with a goal from Luke Callander.

Witham Town had Liam Whipp and Damien Green to thank for their 2-1 win at Brentwood Town. Izzy Bademosi scored for the home side.

Bowers & Pitsea shared the spoils with Hertford Town at the Len Salmon Stadium. Lewis Manor scored the home side's goal. However, Tilbury crashed to a 6-1 defeat at Bury Town, Toby Aromolaran with the Dockers' goal.

Leyton Orient's recent revival was brought to an abrupt end as goals either side of the break from Daniel Woodward and Kieran Murtagh ensured hosts Boreham Wood a 2-0 success at Meadow Park.

It also proved to be a frustrating afternoon for Dagenham & Redbridge, who slipped from the top of the table after a 1-0 defeat at Hartlepool United. Jonathan Franks supplied the Monkey Hangers' goal 15 minutes from time.

In National South, Lee Barnard's early goal gave Chelmsford City an advantage over Weston-Super-Mare at the Melbourne Stadium. However, Rapai Irti ensured a share of the spoils for the visitors with a goal in the final stages.

Sam Higgins, Lee Burns and a Christian Navarro own goal earned East Thurrock United a point from an exciting 3-3 draw at Oxford City, while goals from Taylor Miles, Scott Shulton and Phil Roberts wasn't enough to prevent Braintree Town slipping to a 4-3 defeat at Hemel Hempstead Town. Concord Rangers also ended up pointless after a Nathaniel Jarvis strike saw Bath City take the points at the Aspect Arena.

In the FA Vase first qualifying round, Great Wakering Rovers made short work of Sporting Bengal United, winning 6-1 at Burroughs Park.

Redbridge were also 6-1 winners against Brantham Athletic at the Oakside Stadium.

Ilford progressed with a 2-0 win over Cornard United, while Sawbridgeworth Town were 2-1 winners at Saffron Walden Town.

However, it proved to be the end of the Wembley trail for Waltham Forest, who went down 2-0 at Framlingham Town. Wadham Lodge lost 2-1 at Hadleigh United.

Selected action from the ProKit UK Essex Olympian League saw Dominic Locke grab a hat-trick as Basildon Town won their Premier League clash at Kelvedon Hatch 3-1. Frenford Senior were also 3-1 winners, Leigh Ramblers the side beaten at the Drive.

In Division One, Old Southendian were 4-2 winners over Buckhurst Hill, while Sungate won by the odd goal in five at Shenfield AFC.

In Division Two, Shobury Town enjoyed a 4-1 success over Manford Way Reserves.

Meanwhile, in Division Four Southend Sports thumped Galleywood Reserves 7-0.

Hammers boss happy with birthday victory

WEST HAM UNITED manager Slaven Bilic was happy to celebrate his 49th birthday in style as his side saw off newly promoted Huddersfield Town 2-0 at the London Stadium to record their first Premier League victory of the season.

Pedro Obiang's deflected strike, coupled with Andre Ayew's close range effort ensured the east Londoners maximum points, much to the delight of the Hammers chief.

"It is the perfect birthday present," Bilic said after the match.

"I am very pleased with the way we dealt with the difficult situation that was created."

"After three defeats your confidence is a bit down and all that, but the lads did everything we asked from them."

UPBEAT: Slaven Bilic

"We had a game plan and from the first moment we were on the front foot and we were really closing them down."

"We were really dominant and we created a couple of big chances and, more than that, we stopped them from creating anything."

"There were a lot of things happening in their box, so it gave us a boost for the second half to continue like this and we got the reward."

"We were a little bit lucky for the first goal but overall we deserved the three points."

Bilic continued: "Even if we didn't win this game, I would have been very pleased with the performance because we did everything."

"To be fair, when we played really good and were dominant in the first half, we didn't score."

"Then, when we did score it was at a time when we had lost the momentum a little bit."

"That goal was at a crucial time for us and gave us a boost and brought us back into a confident zone."

"We scored the second one and after that, we never really stopped and we thoroughly deserved it."

Huddersfield Town head coach David Wagner said: "We deserved defeat. Defensively we were okay."

"For my point of view, I think we were well aware of the direct style West Ham used."

"We defended the flicks and covered the centre-backs well. We were good in seconds and defended their set pieces okay."

"But football is obviously an offensive game as well, and our offence game wasn't good enough."

"We weren't brave enough, confident enough. We made so many unforced errors, so many poor decisions."

"We looked very nervous. Maybe the second half was slightly better and we created some moments."

We do not ask for a deposit. You pay us only when the job is finished to your satisfaction

We do not "pressure" sell expensive extended warranties

After your 12 months free warranty you can call our local engineers on a one off basis or take out a low cost yearly service contract

Call us for a free survey and quotation. We have saved some of our customers £1000's, especially on more complex curved lifts
